

University	University of Zurich Erasmus code: CH ZURICH01
Places per year	According to the Agreement with the Partner Universities within the Swiss European Mobility Programme (SEMP) see SEMP and Erasmus+ . Clinical rotations (clinical elective) will be arranged individually and in exceptional cases. Places availabilities according to the capacities in the clinics.
Academic calendar	Autumn Semester: September until January Spring Semester: February until June For more details Semester dates Clinical courses (bedside teaching) are published two weeks before the semester.
Restrictions	Students have to be in the 4th year of study or higher in their medical studies (SEMP for Studies). SEMP Traineeships are restricted to research internships.
Language requirements	German B2 recommended (classes and examinations in German) For clinical rotations: For some disciplines C1 level mandatory For further information please contact the International Programme Coordinator
Study plan	Clinical courses can be chosen according to the Semester of the exchange period. Combinations of clinical courses from the 3 year and the 4th year of Study (1 st Master) are possible only to a limited extent, due to conflicting time schedules. Please contact the Coordinator to check if your preferred combination is possible.
Course catalogue	Course catalogue and curriculum overview The course description is available in the student's guide (Info-Brochure).
Additional information	Practical information <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Application for SEMP for Studies: application procedure and nomination deadline (once a year)• Intensive language courses, select University of "Zurich" and Target-Group "Bachelor-Master"• Housing check Zurich University webpage• SEMP Traineeship - for free mover exchange students - is available only for research internship• More practical information on SEMP and Erasmus+